

Academic Council

Since the time we gained our independence, the Academic Council has been established and operated efficiently. All academic affairs, including the creation of academic policies, the approval of courses, rules, and curricula, are entirely within the purview of the Academic Council. All levels of faculty as well as outside specialists, such as government and university representatives, will be involved in the Council. To review ideas for the upcoming academic year and to keep an eye on the progress of recently added courses, the Academic Council will convene once a year. The Academic Council suggests strategies for upholding standards of quality. The Academic Council's membership and duties are outlined.
