

Human Resource and Development Cell (HRDC)

For career counseling, training, and placement, the college has a Human Resource Development Cell (HRDC). It also provides students with recommendations based on their aptitude and desire in pursuing higher education. Through one-on-one interviews and group projects, the HRDC invites resource people from other organizations to give students information, counsel, and direction. A list of the HRDC composition is provided.

S.No.	Name	Designation	Department
1.	Dr.ShanmugaSundaram	Dean	HRDC
2.	Mr.Sathish Kumar	Member	HRDC
3.	Mrs.Swathi	Member	HRDC
4.	Ms.Sivasakthi	Member	HRDC
5.	Mr.Ajith	Member	HRDC
6.	All HODs

Composition of Human Resource and Development Cell

- The HRDC organizes a variety of personality development programs and self-development programs over the years in addition to conducting campus interviews. The Human Resource and Development Cell offers career counseling on the following subjects.
- Communication skills; techniques to boost self-assurance during interviews; in-plant training, industrial trips, etc.; and regular training sessions led by notable individuals
- The cell that also organizes weekly aptitude tests for students in their final and pre-final years sets up mock interviews and group discussions.
- The college has signed Memorandums of Understanding with a number of leading businesses to exchange professors for a range of academic and research programs, organize national and international conferences, seminars, workshops, and symposia, as well as to share knowledge, expertise, and learning materials.